DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are indefinite because it is not clear from claim 12 what is referenced by "supplying the solvent vapor ... on the basis of the pressure of the solvent vapor". What is referenced as "the basis"? How can the supplying be on the "basis"? Further, the term "the basis" lacks proper antecedent basis.

The claims are further indefinite because it is not clear what is referenced as "researching on a pressure of the solvent". What is referenced as researching on a pressure?

Claims 13 and 14 are indefinite because the term "the researching step for the pressure" lacks proper antecedent basis. Is the step of "researching on a pressure" is referenced?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1746

4. Claims 12-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Toshima (US Patent NO 6,146,469).

Toshima teaches a method as claimed. The method comprises creating a needed pressure differential between the chamber for holding the liquid and generating a vapor and the processing chamber, by controlling the temperature of the holding chamber and by reducing the pressure of the processing chamber. The method further comprises supplying vapor with desired kinetic and thermal energy into processing chamber to clean an object. As to the gas-supplying step: Since the pressure of the processing chamber is reduced by evacuation the gas is supplied to this chamber at least at some point. Moreover, the limitation of the gas-supplying step is met by the gas flow at the time the valves 241 and 240 are opened and water is supplied to the chamber 120. See entire document, especially Figure 1 and the description at column 5, line 51 – column 8, line 18.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 12-18 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of copending Application No. 10/957,003. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claims of the instant application is inside of the scope of the claim of the co-pending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US Patents No 5,288,333, 5,735,962, 5,120,370, 6,508,258, and 6,799,584 are cited to show the state of the prior art with respect to the vapor cleaning.
